Created and presented by teachers for teachers, the Teachers Teaching with Technology™ (T³™) International Conference provides a unique opportunity to:

- » Hear from thought leaders who are influencing the direction of math and science education
- » Learn from some of the best middle and high school teachers facing the same pedagogical challenges that you confront daily
- » Choose from hundreds of hands-on, interactive sessions using TI technology
- » Gain access to standards-aligned, classroom-ready lessons and other curricular materials to engage students
