

HEROKU NOTICES AND LICENSE INFORMATION

Last Updated: September 15, 2015

Services Covered

This Documentation is applicable to the services branded as Heroku and the Heroku API (the “Heroku Services”) provided by salesforce.com, inc.

Purpose of this Documentation

This Documentation describes features, restrictions and notices associated with any:

- information sourced from third parties or public sources and provided to customers via the Heroku Services;
- Heroku Service functionality that allows customers to interact with social media and other websites; and
- desktop and mobile device software applications provided in connection with the Heroku Services.

Heroku Add-ons

- The Heroku Services make available the Heroku add-ons catalog, which is located at <https://addons.heroku.com/>.
- Services and applications purchased by customers from the Heroku Add-ons catalog are generally provided by third parties.
- Unless otherwise agreed between Customer and the applicable Add-on provider, the terms of a customer’s agreement with an Add-on provider are as set forth at <http://policy.heroku.com/tos> and may be updated from time to time.

Heroku Dev Center

The Heroku Services’ tutorial “Dev Center” includes information submitted by third parties regarding the Heroku Services and is provided “as is,” exclusive of any warranty whatsoever.

Distributed Software

- Notices and license terms applicable to the Heroku Command Line Interface (which is a free, open source tool made available under the MIT license) may be found here: <https://github.com/heroku/heroku> and <https://devcenter.heroku.com/articles/heroku-command>
- Notices and license terms applicable to the Heroku Toolbelt (which is a free, open source tool made available under the MIT license) may be found here: <https://github.com/heroku/toolbelt> and <https://toolbelt.heroku.com/>
- Heroku also offers various libraries, examples, and demos at <https://github.com/heroku>. Each component there is offered under the terms of its own license; please check each repository for details.
