
Cisco Certified Architect Mirrors Years of Hard-Earned Technical Expertise

Cisco Career Certifications
Learning Network Case Study

Challenge and Opportunity

Errol Robichaux is one of Cisco's top "go-to" guys for crafting global enterprise architecture strategies for Fortune 250 customers. As a senior solutions architect,

Cisco Certified Architect Mirrors Years of Hard-Earned Technical Expertise

Cisco Career Certifications
Learning Network Case Study

Brian actually landed the Cisco job first. While Errol waited for his opening, he worked on his first CCIE certification with equipment acquired from the now defunct financial company; his "lab" was set up in his children's toy room. "With a full-time job, two young children and a working wife, preparing for these certifications meant a lot of late nights and weekends, but I felt the effort was worth it and central to my career." he says.

